THANK YOU

This is not a happy book, not too beautiful to read. I don't expect you to understand, because it's about feeling. But when you got it, I believe we are in the same circle.

First from all I want to say thank you for my light and darkness, my random mood, music. Yes, for my self.

And thank God to this beautiful life to help me create every unspeakable emotion to show it, and this book help me to speak.

For every person that had created too many story in my life, to imagined me, taught me. My family, Adit (you gave too much inspiration here), and all the broken people that always 'try'. Thank you so much.

So, welcome to my world.

No lights, we are dancing with the beats.

I drown by my own magic.

It just so confusing, i'm paralysed.

Dear God, i lose my stance,

Forgive me i will pray later.

Lust and fear collide burn us.

I'am possessed but i can feel the touch of heaven.

Oh God... that's nice.

Burn, burn everything inside.

Let it out tonight.

Ah...

Save Them

I love how nature works.

A tiger playing with a dog,

An elephant saving a lion.

Green plants,

Water,

Blue sky,

Humming birds.

But humanity destroy them.

Everything slowly extinct and vanished.

One by one.

Don't hear them, because you couldn't.

Feel them, feel the air, feel the atmosphere.

A pure heart soul will find them screaming.

Could you?

“Follow me, I will lead you to nowhere.” said Darkness.
